Table 1 Sports played by boys and girls at a local general sporting club in 2009

The table above was produced after concerns were raised about the variation in participation by members of the club. The club has been in operation for ten years and it has quite adequate club house and field space for more young people to become members. The club was set up with the clear purpose of attracting and retaining as many young people as possible in a healthy sporting environment to enhance their wellbeing.

Conduct a 'disciplined dialogue' practice session using these data and the three key questions below as starters. Allow five minutes for discussion of each question making notes as appropriate.
